

CEILING DECORATION

Last month, we talked about flooring. This month, we turn the world upside down, and talk about decorating your ceilings.

First, before starting, you should check to see if your ceilings contain asbestos. I suggest you read the article I wrote about this which you can find on our website www.salboconstruction.com, called "Take Out The Popcorn Walls And Ceilings" in the media section "Renovate correctly".

The article is for condo and single family home owners in Florida. Before doing any work, check to see if the popcorn contains asbestos and, if needed, make sure to use the services of a competent entrepreneur with the required licenses.

Second, once this is taken care of, there is a wide range of products that do not require a change in the structure of your ceilings, such as finishes to the existing surface.

Giving life to your ceilings

You can use foam, metal or vinyl tiles.

It is also possible to install a floating glossy or mat vinyl or plastic ceiling. Barrisol, among others, offers this type of product.

Ceiling lighting is a priority

Recessed led lights with a dimmer control create a rich and velvety lighting.

To give a nice atmosphere and volume to the room, adding ceiling drops with embedded lighting will emphasize a portion of your walls. For example, you can direct the eye toward a painting and make an art gallery effect. Ceiling recesses can be used in different areas: above the island, in the dining room, etc., by adding recessed lighting.

A ceiling with different levels interspersed with lighting gives volume and height.

The latest renovation trend allows you to use the floor texture on your ceiling to define a specific area.

To achieve a soothing and personalized atmosphere, use old or antique beams with a modern texture, accompanied by led lighting.

Finally, I suggest eliminating traditional ventilation grilles. Linear grilles are zen and more refined and will even become objects of decoration.

To finish and avoid turning the world upside down, never forget that good planning is necessary regardless of the scope of your renovation.

For more information, please contact me at 954-732-8972 or email me at salbod@comcast.net or visit www.salboconstruction.com.

by Dany Salbo
Salbo Construction inc.